THREE-PASSENGER OPEN ROADSTER

Fifty-Horsepower Six-Cylinder, Price $1025.00

Forty-Horsepower Four-Cylinder, Price $825.00

The Roadster is generally accepted as the car convenient, but in designing this car Studebaker has added beauty, elegance and luxurious comfort to the usual convenience of the Roadster.

The splendid power and flexibility of the Studebaker motor and the compactness of Studebaker chassis design especially adapts the Studebaker to speedy, high-power, roadster purposes.

The same harmonious flow of line and blending curves which characterize the touring car is observed also in this beautiful model.

Placing the driver's seat forward gives the driver unobstructed control of the car and affords ample room for two passengers besides the driver.

There is a luggage carrying compartment at the rear of the car, and a spacious receptacle for carrying packages and wearing apparel just back of the driver's seat.

So obvious is the great value and desirability of this Roadster that never yet has Studebaker been able to produce enough to fill the demand. If you intend to purchase this type of a car it would be wise for you immediately to get in touch with your dealer and place your order.

When you have bought the car and started on that trip you have planned so long, wouldn't it be a lot of satisfaction to know that you will get there? That your car will ride as smooth as a boat at two miles an hour or fifty? That when you step on the starter the engine starts and that no sand, mud or hill is going to stop you? That all the gears, springs and vital parts are of Cromie Vanadium Steel? That your engine is so simple, if necessary, you or any mechanic can make adjustments?
